H3R Performance Chrome Fire Extinguishers

If you've ever been a part of, or even witnessed the panic in the case of a fire then you know the need of a quality fire extinguisher is immeasurable! Extinguishers are offered with two different extinguishing agents either the HalGuard or MaxOut models. Both models are rechargeable and come with steel mounting brackets.

HalGuard models are a "clean agent" product that rapidly turns into a gas. This product is an electrically nonconducting, liquid or gaseous fire extinguisher that does not leave a residue. They have no thermal shock to electronics and do not leave a mess or damage vehicle surfaces including paint.

MaxOut extinguishers feature a conventional dry chemical extinguishing agent. These extinguishers smother fires in flammable liquids and pressurized gasses and will not conduct electricity back to the operator.
